An Annual Sale of Samples

Regular patrons know of and look for this sale. A word to others—the Japanese imitate the classics of the European potteries and their agents annually visit the United States with samples seeking orders. The Palais Royal long since contracted for these samples.

Here tomorrow—on Basement Floor.

The illustrations give an idea of the character of these Art Pieces. You will find that some of the pieces are 19 inches high and as much as 28 inches in circumference. That they are facsimiles of the vastly more expensive European art pieces will be apparent to the connoisseur.

$2.97 $1.97 97c 50c 25c

The Values Are From 50c and up to as Much as $10.

The commercial values are from 50c to $10—but you will learn that these wonderful Japanese have imitated the "gems" of the famous European potteries worth many times the prices asked. Here—at only 25c to $3.00, because the agent has lately returned to Japan, leaving his no longer needed sample pieces here. To intelligently learn of these wares please ask for the department chief, who will be pleased to personally wait upon his visitors. Basement Floor, 4 seconds by 4 elevators.
